About

Built my career across four core domains: Business Management/Development, Data-Driven Marketing (MMM & SaaS), Sports Business, and Global Project Management.

In my current role at a Marketing Automation (MA) SaaS company, I lead the launch of a new business initiative, reporting directly to top management. I leverage my previous CEO experience to drive business growth by taking charge of cross-functional strategy and execution across sales planning, product strategy, recruitment, Customer Success (CS), and BizDev.

I have a strong passion for "Solving social issues through sports." I aim to combine my diverse expertise—especially my managerial perspective and data analysis skills—to bring new value to the sports industry in the future.
